Our Bylaws and Operating Manual require the President to submit a “State of the Club” report at the end of each year. I am happy to report that despite a challenging year, our Club remains solid and solvent. The year started out reasonably well, but the loss of our experienced Office Manager reordered our priorities to focus on just keeping the Club functioning as we tried to find and train staff replacements.

I give kudos to Diana Secor for finding Debbie McKinney and Julia Anderson as quickly as she did. Fortunately, they seem to like it here and want to do their best by our members. But they are still learning the job, and can’t be expected to know everything yet, so I am still asking the membership for your help as the new staff learns the ropes. Simple things like asking for what you need in writing -ahead of time if possible- and allowing a bit more time for work to get done will help them plan better and attune to the ebb and flow of the Club’s tempo. They are learning quickly, but as I have learned, running this Club is more complicated than it looks. We close this first year as things continue to improve.

But unfortunately, that was not all we had to contend with. Shortly after I took office, our Vice President of Finance advised the Board that our 2023/2024 operating expenses exceeded the recommended withdrawal from our endowment fund. After analyzing the Club’s income and expenses, the Finance Committee suggested we consider an increase in dues to conserve the Club’s endowment.

The Committee reported that dues were last raised in 2017, but inflation has spiraled since then. Had we kept pace with inflation, our $330.00 regular dues would be $430.00 today. Thus, the Committee recommended we increase dues to be able to keep doing the things we are doing while maintaining a healthy endowment fund for the future.

After considering several options, the Board voted to raise dues by $30.00 per year for regular members and $15.00 per year for spousal members. That raises dues from $330.00 to $360.00 for regular members and from $165.00 to $180.00 for spouses. This rise is only about 9%, considerably below the 30% cumulative rise in inflation. Nonetheless, the board decided the 9% rise would improve our income enough that endowment withdrawals would not exceed our recommended goal, and might even give us a bit of a cushion, with a careful eye on expenses.

The dues increase will take effect May 1st as we start our new fiscal year. To save some money, we have decided not to mail dues invoices but to include the invoice as an insert in this month’s Club Times. You can mail in the invoice, drop it off at the office with your check or credit card information, or even easier, you can pay online.

In the end, although your Board and Officers have faced some challenges, we are happy the Club was able to provide the activities and programs our members so enjoy. As we bring our finances back in line with our goals, and our staff settles into their jobs, we hope to do even better in the coming year. On behalf of our Board, I thank all our members for their volunteer and financial contributions that keep our Club the best thing in town!

Intellectual Activities

April was another busy month with our members taking advantage of the many diverse offerings. Here are a few highlights: Club members Brad and Janie Baskin shared not only their stories at the very-well attended Art & Exploration group, but keen insights about visual arts. For our History group, Gale Sussman, the daughter of Holocaust survivors, who was born in a displaced persons camp in West Berlin after World War II, shared her family's personal story.

Dr. Ellen Hurwitz explored the remarkable burst of energy and creativity that spread across Europe, the Middle East, and Asia during the twelfth century.

Play Reading continues to be successful and is enjoying J.B. Priestley's famously successful "An Inspector Calls".

The re-established Opera Appreciation was wonderfully led by Charles Corbin and well attended. He provided insights and examples of recordings to illustrate points. For anyone even tangentially interested in opera, this is a remarkable opportunity to learn more about this art form.

While on the subject of music, and while not technically part of Intellectual Activities, a big shout goes out to our remarkable and indefatigable Classical Music leader Ture Larson, who has led this activity and provided such wonderful entertainment to our Club members. Thank you Ture!

Ed Korry, VP Intellectual Activities

NOTICE TO MEMBERS, COMMITTEES AND ACTIVITY CHAIRS

Over the last few meetings, your Executive Board has discussed issues related to the interaction of Club members with our employees. Board members noted that our staff strives to accommodate member requests for assistance, but such requests often interfere with their duties and can cause problems if they conflict with existing policies and procedures, bypass Board members responsible for coordinating activities or programs, or instigate conflict. To reduce the opportunity for these encounters, the Board has voted to add the following items to our Policies and Procedures Manual under Section 9.14, Communications and Conflict Resolution:

9.14 Communications and Conflict Resolution:

- a. While members and staff are expected to interact frequently and freely, any communication with Club employees regarding job performance or status must go through the Club President or HR Manager. Likewise, if a member wants a Club employee to perform a task outside that person's normal duties, the member must make the request through the Club President, HR Manager or appropriate Vice President.
- b. Members, other than designated Points of Contact (POCs), who want information on the feasibility of making substantial changes to Activities, Programs or special events should contact the appropriate Vice President, not the office. Substantial changes include changes in rooms, times, frequency of meetings, special meetings, special eblasts and any event that must be deconflicted with another activity or program. The only exception to this rule is the announcement of time-sensitive cancellations of meetings. Continued on page 3

Points of Contact will be individuals who have been delegated temporary or permanent specific duties in writing by the President or appropriate Vice President. Examples include delegated Program Leaders for specific Programs, individuals whose job requires frequent interaction or Activity Leaders or Committee Chairs who have requested and received permission to discuss specific changes from the appropriate Vice President.

We believe compliance with these rules will help our staff be more efficient and reduce stress in the office. We greatly appreciate our members' understanding and acceptance of these guidelines.

- 10:00 a.m. HUMANITIES - (Club Only). “The Illiberal Tradition” This month’s investigation into the history of freedom turns to what many call the Dark Side of liberty. Professor Fear takes us through three essential components that shaped Adolf Hitler’s National Socialism and Stalin’s Soviet Socialist Republic. Nationalism, Marxism and Social Darwinism were the three philosophies behind these political constructs. Dr. Fear contends these ideas epitomize the antithesis of what we think of as freedom. Both Hitler’s National Socialism and Stalin’s Communism represent totalitarian regimes that have been decried as the very essence of evil. Still, when shaped into political and social agendas, these philosophies still resonate today with proponents who consider them as ideals of freedom. Join us to learn how and why the adherents to these propositions find them so liberating. Chairs: Jeannie Schiff and Preston Allen.
